CHRISTIAN EDUCATION ADVANCE MEETING — IN UNITED CHURCH —

Rev. Hoad Pleads For New Order And Fearless Leadership.

Rev. E. J. Hoad held the close interest of the small but appreciative audience which gathered in United Church Friday evening for the second meeting of the United Christian Advance Movement. Assisting in the Service were Rev. S. R. Hunt and Rev. W. E. Sieber of Carlsbad.

Mr Hunt extended a warm welcome to the visiting clergy.

Mr Hoad in commencing his forceful address expressed how happy he was to be present to participate in this Advance Movement.

Basing his remarks on "The Three Voices of The Christian Advance" he said they were "The Home—The Church—and The School."

Placing primarily the Home, the speaker stressed the tremendous importance and responsibility resting on parents for the proper upbringing of their children. In far too many homes the religious instruction given the children was the bare half hour gained in Sunday School—the parents maintaining an isolated individualism in this regard. The speaker emphasized that in order to meet the broader order, denominational differences must be submerged.

The Church—is the second Voice in the child's upbringing, and here again Mr Hoad stated they must have the co-operation of the parents for full effectiveness. He stressed the need for fearless leadership. He commended the work and help of Sunday School Teachers.

There is however a lamentable lack of knowledge of the Bible, amongst our youth, as revealed in some answers to Biblical examinations. Mr Hoad urged a more zealous effort to overcome this condition.

The School, is the Third Voice in this three-fold effort.

He stressed the point that the fundamental side of educating the youth is the developing of character and preparation for good citizenship in their adult years—not merely the memorizing so many rules in Arithmetic or Grammar. Mr Hoad spoke words of appreciation for the local School Board, which gave assent to Scripture Reading at the opening of school each day.

Mr Hoad stated the Scripture readings prescribed, offers a sufficient common basis for the various denominations to co-operate.

He hoped the church would take advantage of this opportunity to explain the Master Philosophy of Jesus Christ.

NEW MINISTERS IN FEDERAL CABINET

The following ministers were sworn into the Cabinet Wednesday.

Maj. Gen. L. R. Lafche—Minister of National War Services.

Hon. J. E. Michaud—Minister of Transport.

Ernest Bertrand—Minister of Fisheries.

Alphonse Fournier—Minister of Public Works.

Hon. J. T. Thorson—President of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

NEW INVENTION LONG GAS MILEAGE

Keen interest has been created in the claim of a Canstor, Alberta, man that he has invented a carburetor that will give 125 miles per gallon of gasoline.

In these times, when there is a shortage of gasoline and rationing has become necessary, such an invention is of vital interest to motorists. It has been suggested that the inventor lay his discovery before the National Research Council of Canada, and that his interests would be fully protected if it were found that the invention stood up to necessary tests.

The Alberta Motor Association is interested in measures that will give greater mileage to cars and officials will watch any action concerning the Sokolsky invention that will be of concern to and benefit motorists.

The inventor says the most saving is on cars that travel more than 40 miles per hour (Federal Wartime regulations bar car owners from exceeding 40 miles per hour). Using his invention, the car engine will take less gasoline when operated between 40 and 70 miles per hour, says Sokolsky. The inventor says that simple mechanism is used for the carburetor. No moulding or casting is necessary and it is a simple matter to start the motor. He says the invention gives the engine a better performance and more "pep".

The University of Alberta has put the department of engineering staff at the disposal of the inventor for unbiased tests.

Here's to the success of this invention.

SCHOOL NOTES

Recent new arrivals in the High School are Lucy Mitsui and Frances Kostynak.

Mr Ware, travelling secretary to the Social Hygiene Council of Alberta, addressed the students of the three senior rooms last week.

The sale of War Savings Stamps will re-commence this Friday. The Strathmore School Board supplies the last stamp on every $5.00 Certificate.

Miss Horne and her pupils of grades V and VI enjoyed a hike, with refreshments, last Friday afternoon.

The next meeting of the Bow Valley Local of the A. T. A. will be held at 8 p.m. in the High School on Wednesday, 14th October. We should like to see present all teachers of Division I of the Wheatland Large Unit.

CANADIAN DISTILLERIES GET ORDERS

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—The entire output of Canadian distilleries will be diverted to war purposes, effective Nov. 1, and no current production will be used for making beverages after that date, the munitions and supply department announced late Friday.

The order was issued by Chemicals Controller E. C. Sterne.

It provides, the department said, that "on and after Nov. 1 no producer may use or allocate his current production of alcohol for beverage purposes."

"The order does not prohibit the sale of existing stocks of beverages, but sales and deliveries of future production of alcohol 65 percent overproof or higher may be made only under permit of the controller," said the department statement.

Munitions and supply spokesmen said manufacture of beer and wine is not affected by the order.

REQUIRE ALL OUTPUT

While the order states that its provisions are subject to any permit or order of the chemicals controller, Mr. Sterne said:

"The fact is that the munitions program now requires the entire alcohol output of the Canadian distilleries. The total capacity is essential for the need of the synthetic rubber, chemicals and explosives programs which throughout the allied countries now are coordinated and interdependent."

Figures released by the bureau of statistics today showed 15 distilleries operating in Canada in 1941, with 2,094 employees. Seven of the distilleries are in Ontario, six in Quebec and two in British Columbia.

THE 'OUT-SIDE'

Dr. W. H. Alexander Wins Recognition at California U—

Dr. W. H. Alexander's many friends in the province will be interested to know that he has recently been appointed chairman of the Department of Classics at the University of California in Berkeley. Further honor has also come to him in being named a member of the Graduate Council and delegate on the University committee on International Relations.

Alberta friends will join in extending congratulations to him on receiving these further well-earned recognitions.

Government House Leased—

North West Airlines, sub-contractors to the United States Army, will use Alberta's Government House for the duration, it was announced recently by Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works. Mr Fallow said the building would be used as a dormitory for the airline personnel and it has been reported that from 150 to 200 airmen will be involved. Furnishing and fixtures will be sold by public auction, according to Mr Fallow.

The Grain Exchange— (The Western Producer)

The news escaped us when—as it probably did—it appeared in the press. It was therefore with interest, which will doubtless be shared by many of our readers, that we read the following item in a recent issue of Maclean's Magazine—

"The Army has marched into the Grain Exchange . . . Such news might have heralded dark knows what horrible social upheaval if it had happened in the boom years of wheat when the Grain Exchange on Winnipeg's Lombard Street rocked to the frenzied howling of the grain traders.

"A wealthy farm group did verbal battle with the Grain Exchange in those days but it never became necessary to invoke military law. Today farmers are too concerned about how to sell more wheat than anybody knows what to do with, to worry about the Grain Exchange whose pit is now deserted. For years the Exchange was so busy that it was twice enlarged, an annex added, but today with wheat prices pegged the only bidding goes on in the coarse grains pit and traders spend most of their time playing dominoes in the smoking room.

"So last month the no-longer-expanding Lombard Street landmark leased its three story annex to the Department of National Defense . . . And the Army marched into the Grain Exchange."

So the troops have marched in! We wonder if it was a western regiment.

● Ottawa—The plain, unvarnished truth in the form of news will be the strong right arm of Canada's propaganda service when her new short wave station to carry her voice to the far corners of the world is opened in about a year's time, it was learned here today.

Two veterans of Canadian broadcasting, men who have watched the development of radio services in the Dominion and compared them with those of other nations, will be guiding forces in construction and the work of the station which will rise at Sackville, N. B.

A WEEK WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY OVERSEAS

—This is the second of a series written specially for Canadian weekly Newspapers by C. V. Charters, Brampton, in collaboration with Walter Legge, Granby.

After thinking back over the past week and recounting the territory covered, the places visited and the experiences that have been ours, this brief review article might well have been titled "A Week in the Canadian Army."

It was indeed a very strenuous one, and the remarkable point is that two fifty year old recruits like your representatives have survived the heavy strain and have come through smiling to tell you about it.

It was the thrill of a life-time to cross the Atlantic in 9 1/2 hours, but almost equally thrilling and certainly most inspiring has been the week spent in visiting many of the Canadian Army Units. It has been our privilege to witness the most realistic Army manoeuvres and schemes which it is possible to "lay-on" when not confronted by the actual enemy.

During the week we travelled close to one thousand miles by chartered bus, by Jeep and Peep motor vehicles in Bren Gun Carriers, in tanks and on "shanks pony." We have sat in conference with General McNaughton for over an hour and a half and have learned by his friendly attitude and his cool calculating manner, and brutally frank answers to all our questions why he is loved by all the men serving under him, and admired by his colleagues in high military circles of all the Allied Nations.

We have chatted informally with other high Army officials, with Junior officers and with the men in the ranks and are impressed with the fine spirit everywhere manifested. We have had conversations with participants in the Dieppe attack, some who came back unscathed and others who are now in hospital having their wounds doctored. To talk with these lads is a grand sensation. They are surprisingly cheerful and bright, no complaining and show an eagerness to tackle the job again that is most encouraging. In a later article our visit with these heroes of Dieppe will be given in greater detail. It is an inspiring story.

We have seen bridges erected by a corps of Canadian Engineers in less time than it takes a country or town council at home to decide on such an expansive construction. We attended an assault course and witnessed a realistic Commando attack put on by the Army in co-operation with the Navy — some of the personnel and the equipment used having seen action in the Dieppe raid.

We saw the latest and largest Army tanks in action and marvelled at their accomplishments. We rode in these tanks, drove them, fired their guns and gave the commands going into attack. We witnessed the Artillery and Infantry in action and marvelled at the accuracy and precision with which they carried out their assigned tasks. We watched the wounded being taken from tanks placed on stretchers in the field and taken back of the lines for necessary treatment.

We saw the Ordnance Corps in every phase, from the large workshops at the base to the smaller ones further down the line. They are evidence of Canadian engineering and mechanical skill. We gazed at Doctors, Dentists and Padres drilling and going through physical training to harden them up for their duties. We witnessed realistic bayonet fighting, motor cycle corps being trained as despatch riders and Provost.

We heard wireless instructors explaining to classes the intricacies of their war job so important to Army communications.

After this first week with the Army we are forced to say that the intensive training being carried on here was indeed a revelation to us all. We feel sure that the average person has little conception of the work entailed in preparing an army for battle.

Our next week will be spent with the Air Force. Then we will have some time with the Navy and with the Forestry Corps. Following that, opportunity is to be given for us to visit any other points of special interest.

TIME BOMBS

It will take more than soft soap to clean up this world. It will take plenty of grit.

If you want to get the system out of a mess, first get the mess out of your system.

Canada must buckle down or she will buckle up.

The Long and the Short of it—
Short on rubber, short on gas, Canada's not what she was Short on coffee, short on tea,
Canada, what will she be?

Long on courage, long on fight,
Canada toils through the night,
Long on spirit, long on men,
She'll rebuild the world again!

We must either face the future with self-sacrifice or leave our children to face the music.

We hear some complaints about how "awful" the war-time restrictions are. But it's far better to have our own Government take away our privileges than to have the enemy take them away. These aren't the awful things. It's the things that are happening in Greece, and Poland, and France, and Holland, and Norway that are awful.

"I met the most gorgeous young officer and he told me I was the prettiest girl he had ever seen.

"My dear, don't trust a man who starts deceiving you the very first day."

WORLD OF WHEATBy H. G. L. Strange Director— "The Crop Testing Plan"

A Saskatchewan farmer has drawn to my attention a statement made by a large cattle feeding farm operating in the vicinity of Chicago. This farm announced that they intend to purchase, and to feed to cattle, this year a good deal of wheat in place of corn. They found from their tests that cattle fed on wheat gained 2.14 pounds a day. They also found that steers fed on wheat required slightly less feed per 100 pounds of gain as compared with those fed on corn. They summarized their tests by stating that wheat has a surprisingly high feeding value for steers. They note, however, that if wheat is fed it must be given a rough grind or finely cracked to gain the best results. If it is ground to fine it forms a sticky mass in the animal's mouth and will not be thoroughly digested.

This American farm found also that if wheat is used with corn for cattle feeding, it decreases the need for purchasing additional supplement or concentrates. Their tests showed that wheat was not a suitable feed for sheep, but that pigs fattened in good style on the grain.

It struck me that these experiments, made near the great Stock Market of Chicago, may be of interest to some of our Western Canadian farmers.

OUR NEW MODERN PREMISES*Air-Conditioned For Your Health and Comfort

THIS modern building now being erected will contain ten thousand square feet of floor space and will be fully air-conditioned to protect the health of the students. This means there are no variations of temperature—no open windows to cause draughts and resulting colds. Fresh air will be brought from outside of the building, and filtered and heated under thermostatic control. The pure air is uniformly distributed to every part of the college premises. A complete change taking place every fifteen minutes. This will be the second business college in Canada to be fully air-conditioned, the other one being in Winnipeg.

THE OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT(Weekly Review of National Affairs)
By M. McDOUGALL

Ottawa, Oct. 8th.—Never before has it become so clear to Canadians that this is a war to fall the people and of all they have. This doesn't come alone from watching the tense and deadly struggles on the Volga and in the Caucasus, the attacks of the Eighth army in Egypt and of the Australians near Port Moresby in New Guinea and mass air incursions over Germany and of pandering on what these battles mean to every one of us. It comes from the growing intensity of our own preparations at home and from the increasing evidence of a vast mustering of the strength of 130,000,000 people south of the border. Here in Canada there are two major projects immediately before the people. One is getting $750,000,000 by loan to help pay war costs, the other is turning the whole man and woman power into war tasks. Both are as essential to the life of our race and country as sun and rain to the life of crops in the fields.

MANPOWER—
It is easy to see how great the manpower problem really is and how much energy and wisdom must be brought to bear in its solution. Men are needed for the armed forces, for war industry, lumbering, base metal mining and in season for agriculture. There are over half a million in the armed forces and over 900,000 in industry, but many more are needed.

When he spoke before the Canadian Chamber of Commerce last week, Elliott Little, director of National Selective Service reviewed the whole situation. Waste of manpower must be reduced to a minimum in industry. One of the greatest sources of waste was "absenteeism" of workmen, which in Britain is called a "crime". Men must stick to their jobs and management must plan forward to ensure that "there shall be no idleness." It meant a revolutionary change from peacetime ideas, but the planning had to be done. Women would form a large part of the growing force of labor. There are already at least 150,000 women in industry, and they are doing a fine job in practically every branch of war production. The gates are open wide to receive many more.

Labor has also to be taken from non-essential industries to replace men going into the armed forces. Dealing with this, in his speech before the Chamber of Commerce, Minister of Finance, Ilsey said it was no secret that some lines of war production were held up by labor shortage. Such a situation could not be tolerated, and the Government had determined upon a vigorous program to curtail the less essential use of labor. Even if this unfortunately would entail some "business casualties". The chamber of commerce urged careful planning of the change from civilian to war industry so that dislocation would be kept at a minimum. The difficult task of "pruning" civilian industry is in the hands of the industry branch of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, working in close touch with Selective Service which will place in war jobs the men released from curtailed industry and with the Department of Munitions and Supply.

CANADA ON THE SEA—

The shipyards of this country have already turned out more than 50 cargo vessels of 10,000 tons to help in the gigantic effort to keep supplies moving across the seas to battle fronts. The yards are working on a total order for 300 of these ships and the new vessels will be launched in increasing numbers. Considering what meagre facilities for work of the sort this country had at the beginning of the war the achievement is almost miraculous. Destroyers are under construction and speedier and larger corvettes are taking the water. More than 200 combatant vessels have been built in this country as well as a much larger number of auxiliary vessels. There are nearly 500 vessels in the Canadian navy with a personnel of 48,000 as the navy minister Angus MacDonald told the country recently. Canadians thrilled to the minister's story of the exploits of the young but hardhitting and efficient naval branch of the country's armed services. The Canadian navy does its full share in the convoy and sub hunting job of the North Atlantic, and does it with quite a bit of success.

Ottawa is watching with the keenest interest the outcome of anti-inflation measures in the United States. There is no doubt that action in Washington will help the system in operation here, because of the close economic ties that naturally exist between the two countries. These ties have become stronger in wartime because of actual close cooperation in war production. The war effort of the continent will undoubtedly be aided if some common front or at least some uniformity of method is adopted in the fight against inflation. As everyone is aware the Canadian control system has been found worthy of study by authorities at Washington. There are of course greater difficulties facing price control in the United States than in this country, but it is unquestionably a fact that on the economic side of the war effort, as well as on the physical side of war manufacture and the training of armed forces, Canada holds a front rank among the democratic nations. By "economic" side is meant that whole structure of control including the price ceiling of goods, service and wages, the priority and rationing controls to supply war plants, the financial policy and the swinging of the manpower from peace-

ROCKYFORD

—By K. M. G.—

The young people of the United Church have again organized for the winter term. Under the able leadership of Rev. Ellison, they are planning an interesting program. On Friday evening they motored to Calgary for the concluding mass meeting of the Young Peoples Religious Education Week. They were much impressed by the work being done and with the realization that they were a part of this great youth movement.

Among the soldiers who were able to spend their week-end at home here were seen, Mr. Eddie Smith, KarmWyman, Joe Lennon and Johnnie Belsie.

Sgt. Ralph Dyer who was training in the East has just had a two weeks leave which he spent with his parents on their farm west of Rockyford, returning to his post on Tuesday's train.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. A. L. Williams on Saturday Oct. 3rd, when the neighbor ladies gathered to honour her for her birthday. Games were played and then lunch, which the ladies provided, was served.

Mr. George Richard Williams who went into Calgary last Monday to start his basic training in the R. C. A. F. was shipped directly to Toronto instead of Edmonton as most of the boys are. He will continue with his mechanical training which he had been practicing in California.

THERE WAS A REASON

For the past several months soldiers at Camp Robinson, Ark., have been trying to grow grass on a barren camp lot. Finally they abandoned the task and dug up the lot. Just below the surface they found the concrete floor of an old shower room.

time pursuits to the demands of war. In this broad field, the record of Canada is worthy of considerable praise.

"HEADS UP", SAYS THE R. C. A. F. INSTRUCTOR

There's something symbolic about that last look at the sky just as he slips into his seat and rolls down the runway toward a take-off. It says, "Here we come . . . Look out!" The R.C.A.F. flier in this photo is an instructor, whose pupils are fighting the Luftwaffe in every theatre of war where Canadians are participating. In Harvard planes like the one in the photo thousands of pilots have been trained under the British Commonwealth Joint Air Training Program.

THANKSGIVING DAY

CANADIANS living at home, have so very much for which to be thankful. We can lay ourselves down to rest and sleep without the fear of bombs shattering our homes.

We know not the cry of unsatisfied hunger.

Let us work and pray that this condition will never be broken.

But in this gratitude, one feels there may savor a sort of selfish disregard for the plight of so many thousands who are so differently situated.

Herein comes the thought, written in this week's "Homey Homely" from which we quote. Whether Christ's teachings must forever remain mere cloudland ideals, or whether they can be translated into action and thus help to solve the international problems.

It is this latter state, that all who name the name of Christ should strive unceasingly to achieve.

We commend the Archbishop of Canterbury — Dr. Temple, for his humanitarian ideals. Perhaps clerical men are not always the best advisers to financial set-ups, but the Archbishop and many others with him, are more strongly concerned in improving conditions in the structure of society for mankind in general. Hence out of this seed sown we hope it will multiply and spread to the uttermost parts of the earth and so establish a system which shall make general the "Kingdom of Heaven on Earth."

REORGANIZE RATION.
SYSTEM

THE Wartime Prices and Trade Board is taking steps to reorganize its ration system, the chairman, Donald Gordon, said this week. By enlisting local people with an intimate knowledge of community conditions, it is planned to set up local ration offices in the municipal buildings at some 500 centres across Canada.

The local boards will be staffed by volunteers chosen from among leading citizens of the communities concerned, who will work without pay as part of their war effort. Mayors and reeves are being asked to act as chairmen of the local ration boards and to submit nominations for board members. The boards will be made up of people representing agriculture, trade and industry, labor, the professions and women.

"The move is designed to give better and more understanding service to the people of Canada with a minimum of expense and inconvenience," Donald Gordon explained. "It will bring local knowledge to bear upon local ration problems."

WORLD LEADERS IN CHRISTIAN ADVANCE
DR. TEMPLE AND SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS

ASSERTING that the public interest is frequently was uncoordinated to the interest of the private land-owner, the Archbishop suggested that the right of property should be "the right of administration or stewardship—never the right of exclusive use."

"I am not persuaded that the right way to deal with the question is by nationalization of land," he said, "but I am sure that we need to assert the prior interest of the community respecting land and water with a vigor of which recent political history shows no trace."

Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord Privy Seal, who shared the platform with the Archbishop said that the call for Christian self-sacrifice after the war "may well be greater" than today and warned that the struggle for social justice "will be long and arduous."

Sir Stafford said that "we might well adopt as our Christian objectives the list of the five simple desires of the people of America as expressed by Roosevelt.

"One, equality of opportunity for youth and others; two, jobs for those who can work; three, security for those in need; four, the ending of privilege for the few; five, preservation of civil liberties for all."

THANKSGIVING IN WARTIME

Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving in Wartime! The war rests heavily upon the hearts of us all and many among us will feel a constriction of the regions around the heart as we think of it.

It makes us feel the awfulness of it all when we remember that side by side with the most bountiful harvest God has ever given us we have the spectre of the starving millions in Europe, Asia and Africa. Starvation stalks their lands while we face a nigh insoluble problem of storing our surplus here—they are dying for the want of it over there! And this in a day when the means of transportation are more highly developed than ever before.

We may ask: Should we attach any significance to the fact that this vast surplus of foodstuffs has by God been committed to the stewardship of a nation which makes pretentious claims of being a Christian nation fighting to uphold Christian principles and ideals as we do?

Or has it been given to us as a second test to see whether now we will "feed the hungry", is it impossible to apply the teachings of Jesus in times of stress and strain? Must we suspend the application of our faith to the problems of living during wars and depressions?

These are serious questions engaging the minds of many Christian leaders today: Whether Christ's teachings must forever remain merely cloudland ideals or whether they can be translated into action and thus help to solve the international problems. Or is Christianity merely a matter of securing a safe passage for the individual soul into the "realms of eternal bliss"? If it is only the latter, then I see no ray of hope anywhere and we can only give thanks to God for abundant harvest as a means to keep our bodies alive until our souls make their safe escape out of this vale of woe into God's heaven above.

And further, then there can be no responsibility of stewardship resting upon us in connection with God's bounty for us.

Rather, I think, we are led to see in all this that the translation of Christian principles into the actual relationships of life is the only way a'out which lies any hope for us. With clearer vision and more intense earnestness the Christian people of the world are facing the practical meaning of their Faith and are seeking ways and means to make a practical application of it in international relationships. We wonder whether God can deem us worthy to achieve a victory if we do not obey His Will more earnestly? For today we hold under trust from God that which means life for the starving millions of other lands if we share it now!

To say that these are not our responsibility is to say that God is not the Father of all Peoples, but only a national, or tribal God. It is the denial in practice of our belief in the universal Fatherhood of God.

That so many Christian people realize this today is our greatest cause for thanksgiving and rejoicing, as well as hope. Herein lies the only hope for the future.

Two rather disturbing pictures arise before me as I write about Thanksgiving in Wartime.

The first is a mother, her head bowed low with grief. Her husband never returned to his bride from the last war and the baby was born while he was fighting overseas. This boy had been a great solace to his mother, for she was comforted to think that her husband's death had helped to make the world safe for her boy and others like him. But now, he laid down his life also. With tears in her eyes she turned to me: "Will God never put an end to this senseless and futile slaughter?"

The other is that of a Father: widowed since the depression. He had also fought in France for the sake of his home and family. In his shaking hands he was holding the yellow telegraphic form telling him that last remaining son had been claimed a sacrifice by the cruel gods of war. Dick, the oldest has been lost at Hong Kong. Jim the youngest at Crete and now—Bob!

Choaked with emotion he stammered out: "And I thought we had offered ourselves that this should not happen again!" He was truly a broken, lonely old man.

Yes, Thanksgiving in Wartime! For the starving millions of other lands? For the mothers, fathers, wives and all those whose nearest and dearest have made the supreme sacrifice?

Those broken with a well-nigh unbearable grief?

No. With our Thanksgiving we should couple a firm resolve, and make a sacred pledge that these humanly instigated & humanly controlled terrors shall be banished from God's green earth, and that peace and plenty, freedom and security shall become the possession of all human beings everywhere.

Yes, let us give thanks to God, not only for the bounty of His Providence, but for the ever-growing conviction that these evils can and must and shall be abolished from God's fair earth for evermore!

 We who sit here in the aura of subgent, but it is now common knowledge that the United States secret service unearthed Japanese secret plans that would indicate that the capture of Al-

WHEAT FOR VICTORY BONDS*— READ HOW —

OBJECTIVE— To secure from the farm community their share of the general contribution required for war financing without jeopardizing their working capital or the reserves necessary to enable them to meet emergencies.

METHOD— Through the regular Victory Bond sales organization and other agencies such as recognized farm organizations, to secure from the farmer signed Victory Tickets authorizing any buyer to whom he may sell his farm produce to deduct a percentage of the sales price of that produce and forward it to the National War Finance Committee Provincial Headquarters. The farmer to receive from the National War Finance Committee the equivalent value in Victory Loan Bonds. The Victory Ticket is divided into three parts—one retained by the farmer, one forwarded to the buyer designated by the farmer, the third to be turned in to the local Victory Loan Sales Committee, who would be responsible for following through to see that the Ticket was redeemed or a satisfactory explanation given as to why it was impossible for the farmer to meet it—such as a crop failure, a disease outbreak, or other emergency beyond the farmer's control.

THE APPROACH TO THE PRO-DUCER— The farmer would be asked to sign the Ticket by the same agency that would be selling him Victory Bonds in the ordinary way. The farmer who could or preferred to buy bonds for cash would be encouraged to do so, or if he wished he could buy them through the regular bank loans.
 The Victory Ticket for produce would be additional or as an alternative where the farmer felt he could not pledge cash he was not certain of receiving.

WEST IS THANKED FOR SCRAP METAL

HULL STEEL FOUNDRIES HEAD
SAYS OUTPUT OF WAR
"TOOLS" ASSURED

Hull, Que.— Western scrap metals, recently collected, will prevent many an Eastern war plant from being throttled in production, says Harold P. Coplan, president of Hull Steel Foundries, Ltd., who has written War-time Salvage, Ltd., of Ottawa, that the West merits the thanks of all Canada for its invaluable contribution to beating the Axis. Mr. Coplan's letter says—

"Thousands of tons of steel scrap which you have allotted to Hull Steel Foundries, Ltd., now have reached our plant and insure full-time operation of our foundry during the entire winter ahead.

"I understand this scrap was collected in a drive which your corporation staged recently throughout the Prairie Provinces. I feel I cannot allow the occasion to pass without extending to our fellow-Canadians of the West the sincere congratulations of Hull Steel Foundries, Ltd., upon the magnificent response they have made to your appeal for material so essential to maintaining the flow of "tools" to our boys and our allies.

"Beyond question, a number of war plant might well have been throttled in their production for want of raw material, if not for the timely help that came out of the West. In the case of Hull Steel Foundries, we can now guarantee for months ahead a steady supply of steel castings vital to Canada's war production.

"As one executive engaged on priority contracts, I think it only just that the people of the Prairies should be informed of the true value of the scrap they have turned over; equally, I hope all Canadians will be made appropriately aware of the invaluable contribution the West thus has made to our country's war effort."

SERG. WILLIAM (BILL) BACKS

KILLED IN ACTION

Strathmore's First Local Casualty

A saddened feeling overspread Strathmore citizens Saturday morning as the news became circulated that Sgt. William Harry (Bill) Backs, eldest son of Mr and Mrs Harry Backs had been killed in action at the age of 21. Bill was a particularly likeable young man, and the regret at this early demise is all the greater.

He was born in Strathmore, and attended Berta Vale school. He helped his father on the farm until enlisting in the R. C. A. F. in Calgary Feb. 15, 1941, from where he went to Brandon Manning Depot. From Brandon he went to No. 3 S.F.T.S. in Calgary. He took Wireless training at No. 2 Station in Calgary and then went to Lethbridge Bombing and Gunnery School. He graduated from Lethbridge as a Wireless Air Gunner and went overseas in December, arriving in England December 28.

Word of his death October 1st was received by his family in Strathmore October 3rd.

He leaves to mourn, his parents Mr and Mrs Harry Backs, two brothers Walter and Jimmy, and three sisters, Jean, Mary and Shirley.

Walter had previously enlisted in the R. C. A. F. and expects to leave for training in Calgary during October. A service was held in Scotland and Requiem Mass was sung in Sacred Heart Church, Monday, October 5th by Father Fitzpatrick.

The sincere sympathy of the community is extended the family in their deep bereavement.

RULES TO BE OBSERVED

MAIL CHRISTMAS PARCELS NOW TO FORCES OVERSEAS

Santa Claus must get off to an early start if our Armed Forces overseas are to get their Christmas boxes on time. Though that holiday seems far in the distance, TODAY is not too soon to start Christmas overseas mailings. The Postmaster General, Honourable William P. Mulock, advises that gifts should be sent now and during October — the earlier the better — to ensure timely delivery. November 10th, is the very latest date that parcels may be mailed if they are expected to arrive in time for Christmas.

Address all mails in ink, fully, clearly and without misleading abbreviations. Be sure to place return address on cover — also include a slip in the parcel bearing sender's address as well as address of parcel. Prepay all mail correctly.

Jams, syrups and other substances likely to leak or spread, if sent at all, must be enclosed in sealed containers, (not glass bottles), surrounded with absorbent material in corrugated cardboard, and securely wrapped and tied. A completed Customs Declaration form should accompany every parcel. Apples, grapes, etc., or any article likely to spoil or become damaged, or to injure Postal personnel, or the mails are not acceptable. The mailing of Matches, Safety Matches and Lighter Fluid or any other inflammable substance is strictly prohibited by law.

Citizens, by refraining from writing to our forces overseas that gifts are being sent, until actually mailed, can save much disappointment. Do not disappoint our men by mailing their gifts too late for Christmas delivery.
